Vicar's Letter Harvest 2019

Dear Friends

It's the Harvest edition of the magazine again – that time of the year when we thank God for his goodness to us and especially for the fruits of the earth. Not many of us work directly on the land these days, but the approach of the harvest made me wonder – how often do we stop to think about the work we do? When was the last time you thought about the fruit of your labours?

We all work in some way, whether it be paid, voluntary or in the home. Perhaps some of us work with teams and projects and there is that special moment when you can stand back and think about what you have achieved together. Some of us might work with our hands, creating, cooking, or fixing things and when we've finished we can look at what we have done with pride or a sense of satisfaction and achievement. Some of us work with people, caring, nurturing or instructing them, so that it's only in the moments of parting that we stop to consider the role we've played in that person's life. But I suspect for many of us, in our busy world, it may be that we rarely, if ever, pause to reflect on how our work bears fruit.

Harvest time has traditionally been a moment to do just that. So perhaps I can encourage you to pause, and spend just a few moments thinking about what you do day-in and day-out and the impact that has for the good of those around you. That is the harvest – the good fruit – of all the time and effort you have invested. In church, we have been encouraging people to think about the 'front lines' of their lives – those places they spend most of their time doing things Monday to Friday when they're not in church. We have been asking folk to think about their service of God and others in those places and to share the joys and challenges with each other so that we can support and encourage each other as we recognise and celebrate the fruit of our labours, however ordinary those things we work at daily may first have seemed to us.

The last twelve months have, of course, seen the successful completion of the remarkable project to restore the bells in the church and it's great to hear them ringing out for services and events and to see a really enthusiastic group of new bell-ringers learning the skills of the art. We've said it before, but we are, of course, immensely grateful to all those who have served on the bells committee or who have donated time and money to make this happen. I hope you can all now stand back and enjoy the fruits of your labours.

With blessings and best wishes

Steve.

Churchwarden's Corner

Thank you to everyone who supported our Flower Festival and Display of Art in May. The fantastic result enabled us to send a generous donation to the Bishop's Fund for Kagera, which is our Link Diocese.

We have recently welcomed Nora Minns into the church family. She was baptised by Rev'd Steve in a service attended by her family and friends. Our good wishes go to Nora and her family.

The Harvest Fair is on the 7th September. As well as the usual games, tombola, books, puzzles and bric a brac we have a Spinning Demonstration and a Dog Show.

The Harvest Supper will be on Saturday 5th October at 7pm, a sign up sheet will be in the schoolroom, or you can contact us to put your name down.

At the Open Church on the 1st Tuesday of every month all are welcome to call in for tea, coffee or light lunch.

The 'Open Church First Tuesday' on 1st October will be a Harvest Lunch at 1.00 p.m. To help us with catering please let us know if you plan to come. Teas and coffees will be served from 10.00 a.m.

Our congratulations and very best wishes go to Stuart (our church organist) and Catherine who were married by Rev'd Steve at West Mersea church on July 27th see photo

Bishop Michael Curry's Royal Wedding Sermon Lands Award

In a ceremony at Lambeth Palace on 13th June the Presiding Bishop of the US-based Episcopal Church, Michael Curry, received the 2019 Sandford St Martin Trustees' Award "in recognition of the huge media impact generated by his royal wedding sermon". The Sandford St Martin Trust, which has been making awards since 1978, said that his 2018 sermon "helped to bring a better understanding of religious belief and its modern relevance to a new audience." An estimated 1.9 billion people watched Bishop Curry deliver the sermon, in which he told the congregation of royals and celebrities that "love is the way".

"One of the indisputable broadcasting highlights of the 2018 royal wedding was Bishop Curry's sermon", the Bishop of Repton, Jan MacFarlane, Chair of the Sandford St Martin Trust, said. "His inspirational words were broadcast to millions around the world and were instrumental in shining a spotlight on the central role faith plays in the wider social discourse, not least in the most significant moments of our lives. "At the heart of his sermon, Bishop Curry spoke of love being the most important and powerful force for unity in the world – a message much needed when the social and political divisions in the UK and around the world are being so deeply felt."

The Trustees Award recognises individuals, programmes or organisations which "have made outstanding contributions to their audience's understanding of religion, ethics or spirituality", the Trust said in a statement. Previous recipients include author, journalist and broadcaster Joan Bakewell, composer Sir John Tavener, journalist Lyse Doucet and broadcaster and historian Neil MacGregor.

Storehouse Foodbank

Demand on the foodbank continues to rise. There is now a donation point in the Cornard Road branch of Sainsbury's in addition to those at Waitrose and the East of England Co-op stores in Great Cornard, Lavenham and Long Melford. Donations of tinned and packet foods, tea, coffee and toiletries are gratefully received. Please contact Sue Macdiarmid with any questions. Thank you.

Little Cornard Neighbourhood Plan

The response to the questionnaire was outstanding, we had over 75% returned. Very many thanks to everyone who filled one in. If you still have yours it is not too late and I have spares if needed.

The Steering Group has begun collating your responses. I think most of you want Little Cornard to remain, as far as possible, as it is but with improvements to roads and traffic, and with some extra footpaths. Housing development is not particularly popular.

Our plan has to be adopted by the Parish Council and then by Babergh. We are now waiting for the final draft of Babergh's new Local Plan to be released for consultation so that we can try to align our plan with their priorities for Little Cornard.

We are applying for a grant to pay for the cost of a consultant to help us with the final document and we intend to have a Parish Meeting in the autumn to explain the key issues and to allow residents to express their opinions about Little Cornard past, present and future.

I think it is worth commenting that as expected most of you are very concerned about speeding traffic both on the main road and on our narrow lanes.

Thank you for all your comments,

Little Cornard Neighbourhood Plan Steering Group.

Volunteers Needed for Community Speed Watch Group

Residents living on the B1508 Sudbury to Bures Road are increasingly concerned at the number of drivers who are driving at speeds far in excess of the 30 MPH limit. There have been numerous accidents in the past and very many near misses particularly where visibility is restricted because of the sharp bends and narrow road.

The parish council are working hard to improve the situation and a mobile Speed Indicator Device that will show the actual speed that a vehicle is travelling will be purchased as soon as possible. The SID will be moved around key sites to gain maximum impact. What more can be done? Well I'm looking for volunteers to form a Community Speed Watch Group – a bit of community action.

All volunteers will receive training so that they can verify and record the registration numbers of offending vehicles. These details are then forwarded to Suffolk Police. If you are willing to volunteer to become part of the group, please contact me (Janice Sampson on 07990 927155 or janice.sampson75@gmail.com) so that we can get the Group in action as soon as possible. Even if you can only do one stint a month it will help.

There were even more paintings on display this year and we are indebted to Vernon Lever, Julie Iveson and Rita Crawley who helped to set up the exhibition.

One Hundred and Fifty Years Ago...

One hundred and fifty years ago a Methodist minister named Thomas Bowman Stephenson founded what was to become The National Children's Home. A small house was rented at 8, Church Street, Lambeth with the first two "homeless and friendless" boys being received into the home in July 1869. A contemporary writer described the building thus: The street is close to the railway arches which cluster around Waterloo station. It is by no means the brightest street in a not very brilliant neighbourhood. An entry was the only playground. A stable behind served as a dining room. Wood chopping was the only industry. A loft in the rear became a dormitory for the boys.

Within two months there were around twenty boys and an adjacent property was rented to accommodate them.

In 1871 the Children's Home moved to a new location, a former stone-yard at Bethnal Green. Continued Over

Stephenson's original ethos had been to provide a family style structure and thus the accommodation here was divided up into a number of single sex households with girls being admitted to the home for the first time. Training in baking, carpentry, plumbing, shoemaking and printing was provided.

In 1908 the organisation became the National Children's Home and Orphanage. The story of the next one hundred years is available to read online. In 2008, another name change to Action for Children was made, to reflect the evolved role the charity's 7,000 employees and 4,000 volunteers have in the 21st century.

Little Cornard Village Hall Summer Party

On possibly the hottest day of 2019, the Village Hall Management Committee welcomed over 100 people to Quinton's Café at Joe's Activity Park, Cornard Tye, for the annual summer party to raise funds for the upkeep of the village hall. Luckily we were able to set out tables, chairs and benches mainly in the shade so all our guests could stay cool.

Included in the ticket price were footgolf, pitch and putt, croquet and lawn horseracing. On offer for food were roast beef, roast pork and vegetarian option plus salads and luscious desserts, all cooked and donated by members of the committee and their partners. The licenced bar was run by Café owner Martin Quinton assisted capably by Jonathan and Karen Drew.

As has become a special treat for us, one of the hall's Trustees, Peter Cook, performed two sets with his band Electra.

The event was very successful and £1355 was raised which will help greatly in the upkeep of the hall. A lot has been achieved in the last year with the stripping, repair, insulation and re-tiling of the extension roof, external decoration and replacement of barge boards. The next task will be replacement of skirting boards in the main hall and internal decoration.

The committee (Clive Johnson, Peter Cook, Nigel & Patricia Monk, Liz Smith, Karen Gilbert, Mark Irwin) would like to thank all who came to support the event.

News from the Bell Tower

We have been very busy training our bell ringers at the Church. Practice is every Wednesday evening 7.30pm to 9.00pm and we now have up to twelve trainees at various stages in the learning process. We are blessed with the services of Derek Rose (a ringing master), Pauline Brown and David Lee who teach us plus we are aided by experienced ringers, some of whom are in the picture below, who come to help us develop. Rev. Steve came and had his first go at bell ringing one evening recently. We hope to recruit him to the team!

We would welcome more trainees so please feel free to come and see how it is done and have a try if you would like to. You will be made welcome. We have great camaraderie helping each other to improve and enjoy a social time after with tea and cake – It's one of few meeting places in the village.

The bells continue to bring new life to the Church and have already brought many visitors. We have had groups as well as some individuals coming to All Saints to ring in the tower. Two ringers visited from Thatcham in Berkshire, a team of eighteen from Devon (who rung fabulously) and a team from Dunmow and Stebbing.

The striking competition for the SW Suffolk Guild of Ringers was held at the Church on the 22nd June. We had seven teams competing and it was won by Haverhill with Nayland second. The method competition was won by Kersey. Thanks to David Lee for organising that. We had close to seventy visitors that day in beautiful sunshine.

A milestone was reached on 26th May when for the first time the bells were rung for Sunday Service. They were rung for the Thank You Service on 23rd June and for the baptism of Nora Minns on 7th July.

We now have two members elected to the Suffolk Guild of Bell Ringers (Jill Apter and Gerald Bird) and have three more getting close to being sufficiently adept to apply for membership. Membership has many benefits not the least being insurance cover for each person who is at bell ringing functions and also opens the door to wider training opportunities and events to attend.

None of this would have happened without the Bell Committee's hard work driving the whole scheme forward to what looked like an impossible target to many of us. We must all thank them for such a remarkable achievement and would welcome them at any practice night.

John Taylor continues to assist us. The current project is to install training cameras in the bell chamber. This is designed to help with basic understanding, timing and correcting mistakes and together with the simulator will provide Lt Cornard with one of the most advanced training facilities in the area.

Sleeping pods to be installed in Welsh churches for SpiritCymru cycle tourism campaign

Special sleeping pods will be installed in a number of remote churches and chapels in Wales for use by cycling tourists. The SpiritCymru project is the brainchild of Ceredigion businessman James Lynch, who runs a sustainable holiday company. It is being launched as part of the Welsh Government's Year of Discovery tourism campaign. The Church in Wales said that the scheme will "bring valuable support to struggling – even closed – rural churches by opening them up as accommodation for touring cyclists."

The head of Property Services at the Church in Wales, Alex Glanville, said: "This is an exciting opportunity to work in partnership with fforest to find a new, innovative purpose for churches that have been closed. These buildings remain special places which will find a new audience through SpiritCymru."

James Lynch commented: "We know that there are some 800 chapels and churches in the rural and coastal communities of Wales – many of which are facing an uncertain future. SpiritCymru will celebrate and promote the heritage values of these beautiful buildings and provide a new sustainable model for continued community engagement and use,"

The scheme has received financial backing from Welsh Government's Tourism Product Innovation Fund and bookings are expected to open this autumn.

Eighty Years of Bell Ringing

For those who start early in life bell ringing often becomes a lifelong interest. Not many, however, can equal the record recently set by ninety five year old Cyril Galbraith who started ringing at St Marys Cathedral in Limerick in 1939 aged just fifteen. Work took him to Dublin in 1968 where he continued his hobby in St Patrick's Cathedral. When the stairs to the ringing chamber at St Patrick's became too much for him he transferred to Taney Parish in Dundrum. The stairs were more manageable but the bells were not so good. In the 1990s the bells were replaced with a set taken from St George's Church which had recently closed. Money was raised and the bells installed at Taney in time to ring in the new millennium.

Little Cornard Parish Council Round Up.

It has been a busy year for the Parish Council. We have waved good bye and given our heartfelt thanks to Councillor Phil Gooch after his many years of dedicated service. Phil decided to not carry on as a Councillor this year. Following an election this summer Peter Schwind joined the Council. Welcome Peter!

We began the year with a Spring Litter Pick and Clive attacked many of the drainage "Grupps" that facilitate the removal of road run off. There will be another litter pick later on in the autumn. Any volunteers who would like to help out should contact any of the councillors.

We saw continued improvement in road accident numbers at Stocks Farm Bends, but sadly accidents continued at an alarming rate further down by Chapel Road junction including, ironically, a car crashing into the speed warning sign there. The parish council have liaised with SCC highways to claim for the replacement of the sign. Surveys have been completed with a view to installing locations for a Mobile Speed Indicator Device (SID) which displays car speeds as they pass. This will be moved about the road within the 30 mph zone by the community wardens.

A number of Councillors and other volunteers have been involved in the Neighbourhood Plan Steering Group, as outlined in Nick Hammond's report, to include an extensive questionnaire being rolled out, collected and collated by the team. The project will roll on for some time yet to its conclusion.

We continue to outsource footpath maintenance (cutting) to a third party funded by a grant from SCC.

Aspirations for this year: We seek feedback for things the parish think they could benefit from within the remit of the parish council and those you'd wish us to lobby for with Babergh District, Suffolk County Council and other agencies. Provision of bus shelters at junctions on the B1508 has been mentioned and more speed control on the same road but what else would the village like? We have some great feedback from the questionnaire but don't wait to be asked, contact your council. We are happy to listen. Minutes are published on the website by our Parish Clerk, Dave Crimmin. Meeting dates are listed in the magazine and on our website so do come along.

CORNARD MERE -

By Robin Ford - Voluntary Warden, Cornard Mere

At around noon on the 30th April I descended the steps along the public footpath and found two "geocachers" searching on the far side of the old ash stump for their quarry. We exchanged greetings and, having discovered a small box in which to leave a message, they continued on their way. From the tunnel of blackthorn opposite I scanned the reedbed for any signs of birdlife but, instead, was greeted by the unforgettable song of a Nightingale from deep within the thicket, a song that I had not heard on the mere for over fifteen years. After listening for about ten minutes to the richly varied tones of this special bird I quickly caught up with the "geocachers" further along the path. I imparted my good news to the pair who, however, seemed more interested in receiving directions to their next "geolocation".

Like the Turtle Dove and the Cuckoo, the Nightingale is a "fast declining" species in Britain and 2019 has been another poor season. A few birds have been found at Lackford Lakes and Arger Fen but the number of pairs counted at their Kent and Essex strongholds is well down on last year. The Cornard Mere bird sang for over a month and, hopefully, raised a family.

Cornard Mere also supported a pair of Cuckoos. They were seen daily, throughout May and June, crisscrossing the reedbed no doubt in search of Reed Warbler nests. As July draws to a close water levels are now at their lowest for over five years. Among the waterfowl only Mallards have prospered. On July 13th two ducklings could be seen with a group of fifty birds keeping to the deep channel close to the reed fringe of the main pool.

Sudbury Flower Club

If you enjoy flowers and gardening you can develop and deepen this interest while learning new skills and making new friends, by joining a flower club.

Flower arranging will introduce you to new plants and can give a renewed appreciation of old favourites with its intimate close up view of plant structures. Sudbury Flower Club is a small friendly club which meets at The Stevenson Centre, Great Cornard.

The club is affiliated to the National Association of Flower Arrangement Societies (NAFAS). The association is an educational charity run by volunteers with its main aim to pass on the skill of flower arranging. There are a whole range of flower arranging styles from the exuberant abundance of colours of the traditional school to the pared down elegance of the Ikebana inspired styles.

The Club has several workshops during the year usually on the 2nd Thursday in the month – there are sessions in the morning and evening; with the occasional Saturday workshop - our aim is to make flower arranging available to the widest range of people irrespective of their commitments. The next workshop will be 19 September at 10am and 7pm.

There are Flower Arranging Demonstration (sit and watch) at the Quay Theatre four times a year with a recognised expert.

The club holds its AGM on the 12 September 7pm in the Council Chamber at the Stevenson Centre. This is a free meeting and is an opportunity to hear about the club and the programme for the coming year.

Recipe - PARADISE CAKE

This sweet treat proved popular at the All Saints Flower Festival in May and we have had quite a few requests for the recipe.

PASTRY

6 oz (150g) plain flour
3 oz (75g) butter
½ oz (12g) icing sugar

Raspberry jam

FILLING

4 oz (100g) margarine
4 oz (100g) sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons (30ml) ground rice
2 tablespoons (30ml) ground almonds
2 oz (50g) glacé cherries
2 oz (50g) chopped walnuts
4 oz (100g) sultanas

METHOD

Rub the butter into the flour, stir in the icing sugar then add sufficient cold water to mix.

Line a swiss roll tin (approx. 10" x 7") with the pastry.

Spread on a layer of raspberry jam. Cream margarine and sugar. Beat in the egg. Stir in the remainder of the ingredients.

Spread the mixture evenly over the jam. Bake for 30 – 35 minutes at Gas 4, 350F, 180C, Fan oven 160. Cut into squares when cold.
